

AGHRANT

collaboration platform of 4 research stations in the province of Antwerp, Belgium

www.aghrant.be

Provincie
Antwerpen

AGHRANT

AGHRANT is a collaboration platform of 4 research stations in the province of Antwerp, Belgium:

- Research Centre Hoogstraten,
- Experimental Poultry Centre,
- Research Station for Vegetable Production PSKW
- Hooibeekhoeve

AGHRANT partners have a strong expertise in applied agricultural and horticultural research for plant and animal production including field and greenhouse vegetables, strawberry, feed crops, poultry (broilers and layers) and dairy cattle in a variety of key areas: crop protection, nutrition, precision agriculture, varieties, mechanization, reduction of emissions, efficient use of resources and energy, reduce impact on environment, young stock, reduction of antibiotics, animal welfare and health,...

AGHRANT ensures a closer collaboration between the research stations and brings their European cooperation and project development and participation to a higher level.

CONTACT:

Leen Gielis

M +32 487 24 49 27

E leen.gielis@provincieantwerpen.be

www.aghrant.be